

EMMERSON CRITCHLEY

Specialist Builders for Period Properties

WE'RE HIRING! WORKING FOREMANS

THE ROLE

Are you an experienced, hands-on leader with a deep understanding of construction from the ground up? Emmerson Critchley Ltd is expanding, and we're looking for multiple Working Foremen to join our growing team.

As a Working Foreman, you'll be at the heart of our projects – ensuring work is carried out to the highest standard, on time, and safely. You'll oversee several projects at a time, managing teams and subcontractors, coordinating trades, and keeping everything running smoothly from initial groundwork through to final finishes.

Experience in both new builds and heritage properties is ideal – and if you've worked on older buildings before, that's a real bonus. We can also offer training to help you develop specialist skills.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Manage daily site operations from underground works to completion
- Oversee and coordinate multiple trades and subcontractors
- Ensure all work meets quality, safety, and regulatory standards
- Communicate clearly and professionally with team members, clients, and stakeholders
- Anticipate potential issues, offer practical solutions, and keep projects on track
- Lead by example – punctual, professional, and proactive

ABOUT YOU

- Minimum 10 years' experience in the construction industry
- Multi-skilled with a broad understanding of different trades
- Confident leadership skills
- Strong organisational skills
- Knowledge of health & safety procedures and compliance
- Confident communicator, able to work with all levels of the team and clients
- Practical problem-solver with a "can-do" attitude

WHY US?

Emmerson Critchley Ltd was founded in 2014 and has built a strong reputation for craftsmanship, technical excellence, and attention to detail. While we are specialists in conservation and restoration, we are expanding into larger and more varied projects – and we need skilled leaders to help drive that growth.

When you join us, you'll get:-

- Long-term, stable employment with a growing company
- Competitive pay with bonus opportunities
- A supportive team environment with a wealth of experience to share
- The chance to work on unique and challenging projects you can be proud of
